Take action #1—enroll in the PRAP.

Saving for tomorrow may work to your advantage today. Contributing to a tax-deferred retirement plan may help reduce your taxable income, so you pay less income tax now and more of your money stays with you. Plus, the sooner you start saving, the more time your money has for potential growth.

You are eligible to participate in the PRAP if you are a pilot employed by United Airlines and you are on the seniority list.

Register and enroll on your own now.	Or, be enrolled at 5% automatically after 30 days.
Enrolling on your own allows you the flexibility to choose your own contribution rate and investment strategy for greater personalization. If you have never logged in, register first to establish your login ID and password. REGISTER NOW » Once you have created your login credentials, follow the online prompts to enroll.	Since saving for retirement is so important, if you don't actively enroll in the PRAP within 30 days of becoming eligible, United Airlines will enroll you automatically at a 5% contribution rate. A PRAP account will be established for you, and 5% of your eligible compensation* will be automatically deducted from each paycheck on a pre-tax basis and deposited into your PRAP account. Unless you elect otherwise, your contributions will be invested in a Target Date Fund aligned with the year you will reach age 65, as determined by the PRAP. If you are automatically enrolled, you may change your contribution rate and investments at any time.

*Throughout this interactive guide there are references to your "eligible compensation." You can learn how your eligible compensation is calculated under the PRAP by referring to the Summary Plan Description.

Take action #2—designate your beneficiary(s).

Failing to designate a beneficiary for your PRAP account and keeping your designation current has two risks: (1) your PRAP assets may not reach your preferred recipient in the event of your death, and (2) your assets could be subject to your state’s probate process (a potentially lengthy procedure), costing money and delayed distributions.

Although the PRAP rules and your state’s estate laws have safeguards for rightful heirs in the absence of a designation, individual scenarios can get very complex. Leave no doubt—designate your beneficiary(s) today.

If you are married at the time of your death, your surviving spouse will be your default PRAP beneficiary; if you are unmarried at the time of your death, your estate will be your default PRAP beneficiary.

Take action #3—choose how much to contribute.

The PRAP permits you to make pre-tax, Roth 401(k), catch-up, post-tax, and rollover contributions—you have the flexibility to elect one or a combination of any of these four savings options.

You may contribute from 1% to 100% on a pre-tax and/or Roth 401(k) basis.	You may make additional catch-up contributions upon reaching age 50.	You may contribute from 1% to 100% on a post-tax basis.	Rollovers and other options available for a qualified plan with a prior employer.
You may contribute from 1% to 100% of your eligible compensation (less any required taxes and deductions), as a percentage or flat-dollar amount, on a pre-tax and/or Roth 401(k) basis, up to applicable IRS limits. Pre-tax contributions and any associated investment earnings are taxable as ordinary income when withdrawn. Roth 401(k) contributions are deducted from your paycheck after taxes. Your Roth 401(k) contributions and any associated investment earnings are not taxable when they are withdrawn—provided that any distribution from the Roth 401(k) account occurs at least five years following the year you make your first Roth 401(k) contribution and you have reached age 59½, have become disabled, or have died.	If you will be age 50 or older in 2024 and you have elected to make pre-tax and/or Roth 401(k) contributions, your contributions will automatically continue beyond the annual IRS elective deferral limit until you reach the annual IRS limit.	You may elect to contribute from 1% to 100% of your eligible compensation (less any required taxes and deductions), as a percentage or flat-dollar amount, on a post-tax basis.	If you have assets in a qualified retirement plan with a previous employer, there may be several options available to help you manage an additional retirement account. For more information about rollovers, log in to schwabplan.com/PRAP and go to Manage Account &gt; Rollover Contribution.

As you decide how much to save, remember that you can start, stop, or change your contribution elections anytime. You can also activate automatic savings increases—an effortless way to boost your contribution rate over time. To manage your contributions, log in to your PRAP account and go to Manage Account > Contributions. Changes will be made as soon as administratively feasible.

Read the Savings Options FAQs for answers to frequently asked questions about pre-tax, Roth 401(k), and post-tax contributions. You will also find a comparison chart summarizing taxation differences, contribution limits, distribution requirements, and more.

Access the Limits Flyer for detailed information on the current-year IRS contribution limits for employee and employer contributions.

Important notice if you have contributed to another employer-sponsored retirement plan in the current year:

The IRS imposes annual limits on the amount of pre-tax and/or Roth 401(k) contributions that you can make to all employer-sponsored retirement plans in which you participate. If you determine that your combined pre-tax and/or Roth 401(k) contributions to all of your employer-sponsored retirement plans exceed those limits during a calendar year, you should notify the PRAP or any other plan to which you contributed as soon as possible so your excess contributions and any associated earnings can be distributed to you by the 15th of April following such year.

If you are notifying the PRAP through the PRAP Service Center, you must do so by March 15th. Separate notification deadlines may apply to other employer-sponsored retirement plans in which you participate.

Helping you save more with company contributions.

Because United is committed to helping you save for your future, we invest in you and your retirement by making company contributions to your PRAP account.

17% company contribution.

United will make a contribution equal to 17% of your eligible compensation each pay period.† This company contribution will be split into two contributions, with 10% going to the B-Plan source and 7% going to the C-Plan source. The IRS limits the compensation used for calculating employer contributions. See IRS limits for the annual compensation limit.

Vesting.

You are always 100% vested in your PRAP account, including your contributions, company contributions, and any investment earnings.

Vacation forfeiture contribution.

Currently, under section 11-H of the UPA, any unused vacation days are forfeited at the end of the Vacation Year (or upon retirement at age 65, if sooner). In exchange, United will make a vacation forfeiture contribution to your PRAP account equal to the following: the number of forfeited vacation days (up to a maximum of 21 days) times 4.25 hours times your hourly rate of pay as of the end of the Vacation Year and increased by 17%. Any unused vacation in excess of 21 days shall be paid out as regular earnings.

NOTE: Be sure to consider the impact company contributions may have on the IRS 415(c) limit (the limit on the total dollar amount that can be contributed to your PRAP account in a given year) when determining how much to contribute on a pre-tax, Roth 401(k), and/or post-tax basis. See IRS limits.

Your eligible compensation from each pay period that is used to calculate your B-Plan and C-Plan contributions is available online through your PRAP account. Log in to your PRAP account and select My Account > History and Statements > Transactions > Important Notice (at right of screen) > View your per-pay compensation eligible for B-Plan and C-Plan Contributions.

NOTE: If the IRS 415(c) limit is met, any excess company contributions will be directed to your Active Health Reimbursement Account (Active HRA) or Retiree Health Account (Retiree RHA) depending on your medical coverage enrollment.‡ See IRS limits and/or the Summary Plan Description for more details.

†Your employer may have a maximum contribution rate as well as other restrictions. Employer contributions are paid on a pre-tax basis and may be taxable at withdrawal.

‡Active Health Reimbursement Account (Active HRA) and Retiree Health Account (Retiree RHA) are separate and distinct from the PRAP, and Schwab Retirement Plan Services does not recordkeep or service these accounts.

To access your account, use the Schwab Workplace Retirement App,<sup>2</sup> log in to schwabplan.com/PRAP, or call the PRAP Service Center at 1-866-855-PRAP (1-866-855-7727).

In-plan Roth rollovers—an opportunity for additional tax-free income in retirement.

The PRAP’s in-plan Roth rollover feature allows you to convert all or a part of your eligible pre-tax and post-tax balances to Roth savings while leaving the funds in the PRAP.

What’s the potential benefit of converting? The opportunity to earn tax-free<sup>s</sup>—rather than tax-deferred—growth. What’s the tradeoff? You must pay taxes on any money you roll over that has not been taxed before. Specifically, pre-tax balances (including any earnings on them) and any earnings generated on post-tax balances before conversion are taxable in the year they’re converted.

There are two ways to request an in-plan Roth rollover. You can roll over all or part of your existing eligible pre-tax and/or post-tax balances at any time. You can also set up a standing election to automatically roll over any new post-tax contributions you make to your PRAP account.<sup>3</sup>

Already have a post-tax balance in the PRAP? A portion of any earnings on that existing balance may be taxed if you automatically roll over your new post-tax contributions.

When considering if an in-plan Roth rollover is right for you, ask yourself the following questions:

- Are you likely to be in a higher tax bracket at retirement?
- Can you wait at least five years before withdrawing the money you intend to roll over?
- Can you afford to pay income taxes on the rollover now with money outside of the PRAP?
- Do you intend to leave the money to your beneficiary(s)?
- Do you wish to plan for taxable and non-taxable diversification for your future retirement income sources?

<sup>s</sup>In-plan Roth rollovers are not subject to a 10% additional tax on early distributions, provided no part of the in-plan Roth rollover is distributed before the 5-taxable-year period is met. The measuring period begins on January 1st of the year of the in-plan Roth rollover. All in-plan Roth rollovers made within the same calendar year are subject to the same 5-year time period. Where tax advice is necessary or appropriate related to In-Plan Roth Rollovers you should consult with a qualified tax advisor.

Talk to a tax advisor for help deciding if an in-plan Roth rollover makes sense for you. To learn more about these features, log in to schwabplan.com/PRAP and select Manage Account > In-Plan Roth Rollover, or call the PRAP Service Center at 1-866-855-PRAP (1-866-855-7727).

To model estimated retirement income from a traditional 401(k) vs. a Roth 401(k), log in to schwabplan.com/PRAP and select Learning Center > Tools and Calculators > Roth 401(k) Contribution Calculator.

Take action #4—decide how to invest.

The PRAP offers a variety of investment choices. How you choose to invest is up to you. You can select from three different investment strategies depending on your individual needs and preferences.

Tier I Invest in a professionally designed portfolio—choose one PRAP Target Date Fund.	Tier II Build your own portfolio with Asset Class Funds.	Tier III Invest on your own with a wider array of options.
If you want the ease of a single investment option, you may be a good fit for a target date fund. Investing in a target date fund enables you to direct your contributions into a single fund, from the time you begin to save until you retire. The PRAP’s Target Date Funds are managed by investment professionals<sup>4</sup> and provide an asset allocation glide path that becomes more conservative over time.	You can invest in Asset Class Funds that have been designed by the PRAP’s Investment Committee in consultation with its investment advisor, Aon Hewitt Investment Consulting,<sup>4</sup> to address specific asset classes and investment styles. Each of these funds is managed by at least one underlying investment manager, and most are managed by more than one investment manager. The goal of this multiple-managers strategy is to reduce the overall risk in comparison with the risk of a single-manager approach.	If you are a knowledgeable, experienced investor with the time and interest to conduct your own research and monitor your investments, consider a Schwab Personal Choice Retirement Account® (PCRA).<sup>5</sup> The PCRA is a self-directed brokerage account that offers you access to more investment choices than are otherwise available in the PRAP’s core investment lineup. With a PCRA, you have access to tools and research to help you make informed decisions.

Get personalized plan advice.

Through the PRAP, you have access to personalized advice provided by Morningstar Investment Management LLC, an independent registered investment adviser, to help you determine how much you may need to save and how to invest your PRAP account.<sup>6</sup>

LEARN MORE ABOUT ADVICE »

Regardless of how you decide to invest, be sure to review your investment elections at least annually to help keep your asset allocation aligned with your retirement savings goals. You may change your investment elections at any time, subject to prospectus requirements.

Tier I—invest in a professionally designed portfolio. Choose a PRAP Target Date Fund.

If you lack the time and/or expertise to actively manage your PRAP investments, consider a single-decision Target Date Fund. These funds are managed by AllianceBernstein L.P., which is responsible for designing the asset allocation glide path that becomes more conservative over time.**

Investments become more conservative over time.

For illustrative purposes only.

Each of the Target Date Funds is diversified across a variety of asset classes. The target date is the expected year during retirement when you plan to begin gradually withdrawing from your PRAP account. Funds that are furthest away from their future target dates are invested almost entirely in equities†† to emphasize the growth potential needed for the long term. When the fund reaches its target date, its investment allocation is 60% equities and 40% bonds. The fund’s final investment allocation—15 years after the target date—is 30% equities and 70% bonds. Equities are included in the fund’s final investment allocation to help protect your savings from losing purchasing power due to inflation and to help reduce the risk of depleting your savings during retirement.<sup>4</sup> As with all investments, target date funds are subject to risk, and neither income nor returns are guaranteed at any time, including on or after the target date.

**AllianceBernstein L.P. is not affiliated with Schwab Retirement Plan Services, Inc.

††Equities include real estate and commodities as diversifying asset classes.

Tier III—invest on your own with a wider array of options.

Are you a knowledgeable, experienced investor with the time and interest to conduct your own research and decide how to invest? Do you have time to review your decisions at least annually? If so, a Schwab Personal Choice Retirement Account® (PCRA)<sup>5</sup> may be the strategy for you.

PCRA is a brokerage account you manage yourself that provides access to more investment choices than are otherwise available in the PRAP. You may invest up to 100% of your PRAP account in your PCRA and may have multiple PCRA accounts. To choose this investment strategy, you must first enroll in the PRAP and then complete a PCRA Application at schwabplan.com/PRAP.

How does it work?

- Once your PCRA is approved and opened, you may transfer any portion of your funds from existing PRAP investments into your PCRA.
- Take advantage of the online tools available through your PCRA to help you search for and analyze investment opportunities.
- You can place trade orders in your PCRA online through Schwab.com or by calling a Schwab PCRA Representative at 1-888-393-PCRA (1-888-393-7272).

Withdrawals and distributions.

The PRAP is designed primarily to help you save for retirement, and the IRS restricts when money may be withdrawn. The IRS does, however, recognize that certain events may present a need for you to access your retirement savings.

You may withdraw money from your PRAP account under the following circumstances:

- In the event of financial hardship resulting in an immediate and heavy financial need (as determined by the plan administrator or its delegate in accordance with the terms of the PRAP)
- Upon achieving age 59½
- Upon termination of employment with the company and its affiliates
- Upon being furloughed for a period greater than 90 days
- In the event you become disabled

Your beneficiary(s) may receive a distribution of your PRAP account balance following your death.

Voluntary post-tax contributions (not including Roth 401(k) contributions) and money that has been rolled over to the PRAP from another qualified plan are available for withdrawal at any time.

Always consult your tax advisor or investment professional concerning potential tax consequences of any withdrawals. Schwab Retirement Plan Services does not provide tax or legal advice.

Review the Summary Plan Description for the full details of your PRAP account distribution and withdrawal options.

<sup>7</sup>Stable value fund providers and retirement plan sponsors may impose an "equity wash" requirement on PRAP participants who want to transfer money out of a stable value fund and into a competing fund. Competing funds are defined as money markets, stable value funds, and bond funds with a duration of fewer than three years. The equity wash rules state that assets cannot be transferred directly to competing funds. Instead, the money must be transferred to a different investment option in the PRAP and held there for a minimum of 90 days before transferring into the competing fund.

<sup>8</sup>This investment option is a separate account and is not a registered investment company product.

<sup>9</sup>This investment option is a collective trust fund and is not a registered investment company product.

<sup>10</sup>The My Retirement Progress<sup>TM</sup> percentage is calculated by Schwab Retirement Plan Services, Inc. (SRPS) based on estimated monthly income projections in retirement using savings and investment data and assumptions which include, but are not limited to, current retirement plan balance and savings rate, projected date of and estimated years in retirement, and an estimated retirement income goal which is based on 100% of annual before-tax salary less retirement plan contributions. SRPS then expresses the potential gap a participant may have between the estimated monthly income projection versus the income a participant may need in retirement as a percentage of income replacement. These projections are made available to the participant as part of the retirement plan recordkeeping and related services provided to the Plan Sponsor/Plan by SRPS. Projections and other information regarding the likelihood of various retirement income and/or investment outcomes are hypothetical in nature, do not reflect actual results, and are not guarantees of future results. Results may vary with each use and over time. The Peer Comparisons are calculated and based on data from SRPS' recordkept, corporate-defined contribution and defined benefit plans. Not all plans may offer Peer Comparison. To obtain more information about how the percentage is calculated or to provide additional information that can impact My Retirement Progress calculations, visit workplace.schwab.com or call 1-800-724-7526.
